

Euromov DHM Seminar

December 15th 2022

Image Schemas: Sensorimotor Experiences in Natural Language

Dagmar Gromann

PAST

- PhD from University of Vienna, Austria, 2015, under supervision of Prof. Gerhard Budin.
- Background in linguistics and computer science
- Post doc at
 - IIIA-CSIC (Artificial Intelligence Research Institute) in Barcelona
 - TU Dresden

Dagmar Gromann

PRESENT

- Assistant Professor at the Centre for Translation Studies at the University of Vienna, Austria (2019-)
- Research interests:
 - Knowledge extraction from natural language with a cognitive or terminological focus (Project Text2TCS : extracting Terminological Concept from Natural Language Text)
 - Socio-technical impacts of language technology,
e.g. gender-fair machine translation (project GenderFairMT)
- Editorial & representative activities:
 - Editorial board of the Semantic Web journal & Journal of Applied Ontologies
 - Vice chair of the COST Action NexusLinguarum
 - Representative role at:
 - the National Competence Center of European Language Grid (ELG)
 - The Technology National Anchor Point for the European Language Resource Coordination (ELRC).

More information: <https://dagmargromann.com>

